Market Review

Malaysian Government Securities (“MGS”) yield curve experienced a bear flattening trend early in June 2025 as offshore investors and dealers actively took profit at the belly of the curve ahead of auctions, while onshore investors selectively bought longer tenors. Sentiment shifted mid-month with a rally across the curve driven by the de-escalation between Israel and Iran tensions coupled with softer Malaysian CPI data, culminating in strong demand at the 10Y MGS auction.

The S&P 500 index rose 5.00% during the month, hitting a new all-time high supported by resilient economic data, renewed hopes of US Federal Reserve (“US Fed”) rate cuts, and the expectations of favourable trade talks. Asian markets also gained in June 2025, with the MSCI Asia ex-Japan index climbing 5.70%, led by Korea which surged 13.90% on renewed optimism over the government’s proposed capital market reforms.

The FBMKLCI (“Index”) gained 1.6% Month-on-Month (“MoM”) to close at 1,532 pts in June 2025. The Index underperformed the MSCI Asia ex Japan Index, which gained 5.7% MoM in Malaysian Ringgit (“MYR”) terms over the same period. Foreign investors turned net sellers of Malaysian equities with net sell flows of MYR1.3 billion while local institutions remained net buyers amounting to MYR1.7 billion during the month.

Market Outlook

Malaysia’s economic outlook remains cautious amid persistent global uncertainties. Although geopolitical tensions have eased and trade negotiations between the US and trade partners are ongoing, external demand remains weak, weighing on Malaysia’s export performance. any unexpected setback could quickly escalate tensions. Volatility is likely to persist in the near term as markets react to further developments in trade negotiations and key economic data releases. We continue to adjust the portfolio proactively to manage risks and capture opportunities as they arise.
